

KUDOS

The season for giving is here

It's almost time for the holidays, and the North Shore community is in the giving spirit.

Please join us in thanking those businesses, organizations and individuals who opened their hearts and wallets to help make the North Shore a better place to live.

SHAUN Mitha, owner of Hatz Hair Studio, presents Kristy Gill, director of donor relations for Lions Gate Hospital Foundation and Rebecca James, fund development coordinator with a cheque for $750 raised through the seventh annual Central Lonsdale Festival Day.

TOM Boppert and Heather Dunsford, co-chairs of the Coho Society, receive a cheque for $5,000 from Bronwyn Thompson of the North Shore Credit Union.

WEST Vancouver councillor Michael Evison, Patricia Macleod of the West Van Field Hockey Club, acting district mayor Trish Panz and James Askew, director of fundraising for West Van Soccer receive cheques for $207,000 and $63,000 to go towards a new sports clubhouse at the Ambleside turf fields raised through various North Shore fundraising efforts.

TERRY Byrnes (left), board chairman of the Harvest Project receives a cheque for $65,000 from Nancy Radloff, executive assistant to the president of Port Metro Vancouver. The money was raised during the 2010 Port Fundraising Gala.

MAUREEN MacLahlan of Pacific Arbour Retirement Communities presents a cheque for $10,000 to Elinor Ames, president of the North Shore Keepwell societies.

STEVE Parkhill (left) of Roger's Chocolates and Thirty Foods president Milford Sorenson (right) present Ledford Lilley of the Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation and breast cancer survivor Gillian Bird with a cheque for $20,000 raised through the store's Cure by Chocolate campaign.

LAURA Koberstein (right), concierge of Whole Foods in West Vancouver, presents a cheque for $3,977.42 to the West Vancouver SPCA. On hand to receive the donation were Gail Higgins (left), Colleen Last and Terry Picha, members of the West Van SPCA community council, Lisa Valente, acting manager of the association and John Novosad, SPCA regional director.

CATHY Richards (left) and Jeanne Douglas (right), co-chairs of the Seymour Golf and Country Club's annual Charity Invitational Tournament, and women's captain Sharon Walker (second from left) and present a cheque for $37,600 to Liina MacPherson, executive director of the North Shore Stroke Recovery Centre and Gordon Brown, president of the centre's board of directors.

SUMMERHILL Retirement Residence's Elaine Wallace (second from left) and Jean Gill and Moe Jones (left), Clarence Stad, Gord Ross and Ed Arnold of The Motones barbershop quartet helped raise $1,172 for the Alzheimer's Society of B.C. through the annual Ascent for Alzheimer's fundraiser — a climb to Mount Kilimanjaro. The quartet performed for Summerhill residents to raise money.

RAY Arnold, co-ordinator of the Sunrise Toyota Rats Slo-pitch Tournament and members of the team present a $5,500 cheque to Kristy Gill, director of donor relations for the Lions Gate Hospital Foundation.

REBECCA James (left) of the Lions Gate Hospital Foundation receives a cheque for $2,500 from Christine Woolley of Lonsdale Quay Market. The money was raised during SummerFest 2010 at the Quay.